Whenever Word opens a file that isn't a native Word file type, a conversion occurs. There is no way around that. But I guess you are saying that you don't want PDFs to automatically open in Word? In that case, do the following: Right-click on the icon for a PDF file. On the context menu, click Open With, and then click Choose Default Program. Select your PDF viewer if it is listed, otherwise click More Options, scroll to Look for another app on this PC and click it.
